LF 12/11/ 72 HW Driving to Baltimore this a.m. I heard a CBS net radio newscast that makes more sense that the Post's yesterday's reporting I mailed you this a.m., that Hunt went to Chicago Friday afternoon and returned to DC not Sunday but Saturday, after having made arrangements for the body, etc. This, of course, bears on the long silence in any announcement or comment. One of the side benefits was time to prepare a story if one were needed...An interesting conjecture: to whom is the money returned? To Hunt, of course. But suppose the serials trace to the Creep money? How can he explain using that money for this alleged "private" business deal? If he uses that money, how explain omission of that particular money from the indictment? There are many question like these that may or may not be relevant but some to mind and I hope are not entirely ignored. HW
